OUTDOOR KITCHENS

*IT'S TIME
TO TAKE IT OUTSIDE.*

IT'S IN OUR NATURE

At Julien, we have spent more than 73 years hard at work in the kitchen. And that experience has taught us so much about perfecting the room that is the true heart of the home.

Stainless steel is our passion, and making it gorgeous our mission. Today we enjoy an enviable reputation throughout North America, as Julien professional kitchens have become indispensable for many world-renowned chefs.

In 2003, Home Refinements by Julien was born from the desire to bring our expertise gained in the design and creation of professional kitchens to the residential scene. The result is a brand that features professional-grade form and function.

Now our next act is to build on our love of kitchens, and take it outside, into the great outdoors. Because nothing whets the appetite like fresh air.

SHARING THE LOVE

Some cooks like to share the experience, believing that when it comes to enjoying and preparing food, the more the merrier. An L-shaped configuration is the perfect way to foster that kind of connection, allowing for an all-hands-on-deck approach to meal preparation.

Another inclusive element is the choice of a SocialCorner sink, which gives the entire family easy access to that most important resource, water. The result is a gorgeous outdoor kitchen that is as welcoming as it is functional.

Bon appétit.

SUPERIOR STAINLESS STEEL

Some materials just seem to have it all. Durable, corrosion resistant, easy to maintain, and let's not forget the most important attribute of all, beautiful. All things considered, stainless steel is the ideal material for outdoor use.

At Home Refinements by Julien, we have been under the spell of this precious metal since day one, and so we are experts at putting it to new uses, like creating outdoor kitchens that offer a brand new way to connect with nature as well as friends and family.

MOTHER NATURE APPROVED

The elements can wreak havoc on an outdoor kitchen, which is why the proper design and materials are crucial. At Home Refinements by Julien, our cabinets are equipped with weather resistant rubber seals that keep out the elements and insects.

Our unique double back construction efficiently separates storage space from utilities, protecting what is precious in a clean and dry environment.

Stainless steel remains our greatest ally, being impervious to humidity, the harsh rays of the sun, and ice. And people living in coastal regions who require additional protection have the option of upgrading their cabinets to 316L grade stainless steel.

MODULAR THINKING. MODULAR DOING.

Having options is a wonderful feeling, especially when the final result is greater than the sum of its parts. This is the raison d'être of our modular approach, which offers so many ways of building a perfect outdoor kitchen. From prep stations to cleaning areas to lighting, you can design a layout that fits the space you have, and the way you cook. After all, your kitchen works for you, not vice versa.

THE PERFECT SHAPE

The kitchen can be a sacred place, a personal shrine to be treated with respect, even reverence. If that sounds familiar, then a U-shape is something to think about when planning the perfect outdoor kitchen. This shape is conducive to optimal workflow, with increased counter space and maximized storage. It also makes it easy to entertain guests while preparing the meal, and it subtly suggests to others that they should perhaps stand back and admire a genius at work. Sometimes it's nice to have the final word!

SET THE MOOD

Proper lighting sets the atmosphere for special moments with friends and family. Whether planning a romantic supper, a family brunch or snacks before the big game, the lighting chosen will affect the mood. And while some manufacturers offer a limited selection of lighting options, we do the opposite, allowing you to create the perfect way to light your perfect kitchen. Whether it's the choice of under cabinet or vertical module LED lighting, we offer a range of gorgeous integrated solutions. Because every great culinary performance deserves its time in the spotlight.

PERFECTION, ON SO MANY LEVELS

Getting it right means getting everything right. From high-quality cornerstone components like the sink and cabinets right down to the gaskets and hinges. At Home Refinements by Julien, the quality is even present in ways you can't see or hear. Doors that open and close without a whisper, drawers that slide seamlessly along invisible tracks. And a wide range of cabinet types and beautiful accessories that add a touch of je ne sais quoi to your kitchen.
